There will be no shows in the Ambler opera house until Saturday evening, when the house will be reopened after being closed a week to allow the painters to redecorate the ceiling and walls. The interior has taken on a most beautiful appearance, and is far superior of any play house along the North Penn in his feature. The only thing now needed to make the local opera house the leading theatre of the county is a pipe organ, as it is conceded that a piano is an antiquated feature in a moving picture theatre. An organ will greatly add to the presentation of a picture and will also be the means of increasing the attendance. The motion pictures shown at the opera house are the only recreation that our residents have, and the admission asked has been kept within the reach of all.

There is much interest in the cage games this year because of the league that has been formed among the leading high schools of Bucks and Montgomery counties.

There is every indication now that the women have lost out in the contest for the school board. It is said that the last effort to have the court throw out the vote counted for J. M. Reed, which would have made a three-corner tie, will be without effect. Those who attended the hearing in the matter at Norristown last week say that the evidence favored Mr. Reed and that when the court does hand down a decision it will be in Mr. Reed's favor. The refusal of Harvey Hillegas, who has tied with Mrs. Walton, again blocked the efforts of the women in placing a member on the board. Should the court throw out the vote which has been counted for Mr. Reed he will then be tie with Mrs. Walton also.

STORING OF ENSILAGE.

Concrete Silos Unfairly Condemned for Some Time.

Experiments Fail to Show Any Difference in the Product Stored in Them —Farmers Therefore Have a Choice.

Is silage any better when put up in stave silos than when it is saved in concrete silos? Stave silos are probably the more common kind; they are usually less costly. Many people, however, prefer the more permanent concrete on account of the greater durability and the fact that the building material may be found near home in many cases; but there is an impression on the part of some people that the concrete silo does not give such good results in the preservation of the silage from spoiling and from freezing Experiments made by the Dairy Division, United States Department of Agriculture, do not bear out this notion.

In experiments conducted on the Dairy Division farm, at Beltsville, Md., two silos were used, one concrete and one stave, standing side by side. The stave silo was directly south of the concrete one, and hence got more sunshine and less north wind. Otherwise they had exactly the same conditions Temperatures in the two silos were taken by means of electrical thermometers buried in the silage, which made a record which could be read on the outside. The thermometers were placed at 3 inches and 18 inches from the wall and also in the middle of each silo. Three sacks of silage were carefully weighed and buried in each silo at various depths, close to the thermometers; and when the silage was fed down to where the sacks were their contents were taken out and analyed.

The quality of the silage was judged by its appearance and odor and its palatability to the cows. If much difference had been apparent a feeding trial would have been made to see which lot of silage was better, but the results in the two silos were so nearly alike that it was thought not worth while to make the feeding test.

In short, neither the temperatures nor the chemical analysis of the two kinds of silage revealed any marked difference that could be ascribed to the material used in the construction of either silo. Cows at the silage from both silos with the same avidity. It is concluded, therefore, that farmers may build stave silos or concrete silos, whichever they prefer without any fear of not getting good silage from either one, if the silages is put up right.

It is assumed, of course, that the silo in either case will be properly constructed, with smooth walls, straight up and down, so as to be free from pockets and bulges, and properly coated inside with coal tar or some similar preparation; and that the silage will be properly packed, so that all air will be excluded. Silage will not keep in any kind of silo unless packed down and kept airtight.

The Imp of Fort Wash.

I moved to the country to breathe
God's pure air,
And have on my table the farm's bill
of fare,
The vision of garden, the succulent
fruit,
The tender spring chicken and eggs laid to suit.
Luxuriant travel, the smoking car haze.
And chaffing one's friends starts the pleasantest days.
There's comfort in seeing no houses
for sale,
Just solid contentment with no restless kale.
Gosh! There comes the imp, with his blue prints galore,
To change Nature's landscape and make people sore.
The sidewalks make perfect, the streets on the square,
The taxes to double and also our care.
The charm of this fortress is hard to explain
The people who came here have come here again
When shorn of it's vista, by wood stones and bricks,
I'll move to Pike county, to live with the hicks.

Township Commissioners Hear Interesting Report.

Closing Year Showes Small Balance in Treasury—Fire Companies File Expenses for year— Treasurer's Bond Fixed at $45,000

The board of commissioners of Springfield township, in session last week in the township building, heard an interesting report of police service and activity from Chief Sherman' S. Koons, which already has had a salutary effect within the district. Flourtown, City line, Chestnut Hill, Erdenheim and other districts were represented in his report. Automobile violators were brought to justice and fined, and other cases were reported as being ready for court presentation. The Commissioners are backing the chief in his effort to clean up conditions.

All the members of the board were present and President Ballard was in the chair. The minutes of the meeting on Nov. 2 were read and approved.

A letter was read from the Reading Railway company in reply to a communication from the secretary of the board, pledging cooperation with the township in remedying conditions complained of in Oreland. Cars wil not be placed so as to obstruct the railroad crossing nor to obstruct the view there of fwn the township hoghway. The company will also remove the trees and shrubbery to aid these conditions.

The police committee reported having requested of Philadelphia police control over Stenton avenue with a view of stationedtheree aumciorcer-o roied regulating traffic thereon. As a result several officers have been stationed there with good effect, and on Saturdays Sundays and other holidays the high way from Evergreen avenue has been made to one way street.

A letter was recived from the Philadelphia Electric company suggesting that township street signs be placed, on the company's pole with a special bracket, and offering to do this work and supply the bracket for $3 each. This is considered an advantageous offer for the township.

Mr. Aiman reported that the Wyndmoor Hose company has purchased350 feet of new first-grade fire hose

The three fire companies of the township have filed with the board a list of thier 1921 expenses, and this the township appropriation is based for next year.

Secretary Harner reported paid all the pole licenses within the township, said amount being $211.65.

Mr. Aiman inquired with regard to the township's share of the county liquor licenses, Solicitor Stahlnecker was instructed to investigate and report

Howard F. Champion addressed the board suggesting a street light at the intersection of Stenton and Wyndmoor avenues, and Secretary Harner called the boards attention to the dangerous gutter and lack of street light at the corner of Bethlehem pike and Yeakle avenue.

These matters were referred to the light committee with power to act.

Mr. Aiman presented a letter from John A. Thornton postmaster of Philadelphia suggesting the convenience of having the house numbered in Chestnut Hill and Wyndmoor sections of township, It was suggested that the Chestnut Hill and Wyndmoor sections of the township. It was suggested that the Wyndmoor hose company be requested to suggest three men to confer with the commissioners with a view of recommending to the house-holders a system of numbering to conform to and continue the plan employed over the line in Philadelphia.

Ordinance No. 111, transfering buget ntems, and ivdinance No.112, fixing the treasurer's bond at $45,000 for th next four years, were pased unanimously.

Drag Pond As Grave For Stolen Motors

While hundreds of residents of the North Penn section watch, police authorities are directing the dragging of the bottom of a quarry pond at Orville, about three miles above Lansdale, in search of automobiles.

According to those who are engaged in dragging the quarry pond— which is about 40feet deep— it is known that at least one auto is at the bottom and it is belived the investigation will develop that the bottom is a veritable graveyard for automobiles that have been hurled therein in order to collect insurance

Up to the present time, the top of an automobile has been hooked from the quarry pond and recently an automobile or some other heavy object was located and drawn part way to the surface but the rope broke. Fire companies from Lansdale and Hatfield have been called upon. It was first proposed to drain the pond, but this idea will likely be given up.

The investigation is being directed by Constable George Fischer and Magistrate Howard F. Boorse, of Lansdale, and members of the State police located at Norristown.

Mrs. J. M. Krout, formerly of Traymore, now of Ambler, who has been ill for several weeks, is improving.

John E. Martin, who spent several weeks in Altoona visiting his son, Warren D. Martin, has returned to Ambler.

On Saturday Mrs. Robert Turner, of Brier Cliffe, New York, and her daughter, Miss Margery Turner, of George school, left Ambler for Poughkeepsie to spend the holidays at their own home.

On Sunday afternoon the Sabbath school of Trinity Memorial church held an interesting manger service, and about 200 packages, neatly tied and wrapped, were donated. These have been forwarded to Christ's home, Warminster.

Albert, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stevens, of Church street who was badly cut through a prank of a fellow school mate at the Ambler high school, is now reported to be improving nicely, and at this writing his full recovery is looked for. The boy accused of being responsible for the cutting is Lawrence Crowell, of the Bethlehem pike, near Springhouse. According to what could be learned, it appears that the latter, some time ago found a knife with an extra large blade, which he brought to school with him. The blade was a sharp one and also very pointed,and it was the practice of the boys who would borrow the knife from time to time to prick each other in the back. On the occasion in question, Lawrence, it is alleged, set the knife half opened on Albert's seat and before he could remove it the latter sat down on it. Finding that the knife had entered his companion's person he quickly pulled it out in doing so he made quite an ugly wound. Albert quietly raised his hand, asking permission to leave the room. A trail of blood leading from the room to the basement caused the discovery of the affair. Dr. Shelly, the family physician of the injured boy, was summoned and had the boy removed to his home after dressing the wound. So far as known it is the first serious accident of its kind that has ever happened at the Ambler high school, which speaks well for the discipline in force there.

Ambler School Notes.

When the Sixth grade completed their study of Asia, they decided to take a trip to its different countries so they would not forget the interesting people, their habits and occupations.

Strings of Japense lanterns were hung from corner to corner and across the room. A large American flag was suspended from the center, while flags of smaller size were in the window corners. Dozens of pictures of the people, occupations products and scenery of different countries of Asia were arranged about the room. For the natural productions, rice in the husk, tea, coffee berries, spices, cotton balls, cocoanut with a part of the outer husk removed, raw silk and bamboo were among the specimens shown. Many things were loaned to the pupils by friends; China ware, Japenese Kimono and slippers, a basket from Japan, Chinese newspaper, etc. Our exhibition would not have proven a success if it had not been for the many splendid specimens taken from the Forest avenue school museum.

The high school students had the pleasure of listening to Dr. Arthur P. Abbot, author and historian, who lectured to them on the subject, "South America, the Land of Tomorrow." He emphasized the facts concerning South America with the aid of lantern slides..

On Friday just before noon the attention of Mrs. James O'Brien, of Butler avenue, was attracted by a strange man walking on the front porch. Upon going to the door and asking him what he wanted she was informed that he was from the Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Taking the remark as a joke, she inquired what the animals were and he said, "Dogs", and became very sarcastic and insulting. whereupon she closed the door, but not soon enough for her son Frank, who was home sick, to hear some of the remarks. He called to the man, who was searching the yard at that time for the dogs, and told him to leave at once. Not heeding the command, he called the man to the door and told him in a few words what would happen to him if he continued his annoyance and he left. On Saturday night between midnight and morning some one tried to force entrance through the front door when the family discovered it in the morning they at once suspected the stranger, as he had no credentials whatever to identify himself and refused to give his name. Should he be the guilty person he will meet with a warm reception upon his return.

WILLOW GROVE.

The improved Orded of Red Men, No. 520 of Willow Grove, held their annual dinner on Saturday evening at the firemen's hall. 200 members and guests attended.

The annual Christmas entertainment, of the Sunday school, of Upper Dublin Lutheran church, will be held next Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock. A splendid exercise entitled "The Prince Divine," will be rendered. Special Christmas music by the choir at the morning service. Everybody welcome.

Have You Seen

The New Bungalows

we are offering for sale for Mr. Jos. H. Fretz, on Ridge Ave. & North Spring Garden St., Ambler? Since the close of the war we have urged Mr. Fretz to build bungalows, to meet the increasing demand for one-floor homes. The fact that we have sold three, out of an operation of eight, two or three months before their completion, proves that these bungalows are appealing to the families that are weary of housekeeping homes that are unnecessarily large. Have you seen them? If not why not let us show them to you, and tell you of the easy terms on which you can buy one of these work reducing bungalows.

On Tuesday afternoon in Cold Point cemetery was interred the remains of Augustus Asterman, aged 79 years, who was in the employ of the Keasbey and Mattison company for 25 years. He was found dead at his post of duty—one of the watchmen's boxes at the plant. Death resulted from heart disease. He had no immediate family, and for 27 years had made his home with Mrs. Coleman, Ambler.

Officer Richard S. Ford was assaulted by a prisoner while making an arrest Saturday night. The man is wanted on a serious charge. Chief Ford was informed that the man he wanted was in a house at Main and Race streets. The information he received proved to be correct, and upon entering the house he saw his prisoner seated with a number of others about a table. Officer Ford placed the man under arrest and was leading him to the door when without warning he was struck a powerful blow in the face and knocked down. The chief sprang to his feet at the same time drawing his revolver, but before he could shoot another man got in his way, and his prisoner made good his escape by running north on Main street. Outside of a bruised face Officer Ford was uninjured. The only name the man is known by here is "Honey Pete." He has been living here but a short time, which is given as the probable reason for lack of information concerning him.

Frank Peligi and Joseph Volotto, of Edge Hill who were apprehended last October below Fort Washington, after they had stabbed several persons in the West Ambler section, were given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Urban Saturday afternoon. The defendants were arrested October 8th and have been in the Montgomery county jail ever since awaiting the outcome of the wounds that they inflected. Among the victims of the two was little Patsy Volpe, who was stabbed in the back by Peligi, it is alleged while he was asleep on a couch. The boy is but 10 years of age, and for several weeks he was confined in the Presbyterian hospital, where it was believed for a time that he would not recover. Patsy still shows the effect of the wound he received. At the hearing in giving his testimony he said that when he woke up he felt his back which was wet and he saw Peligi standing over him with a big knife. Later when he fell from the couch both men kicked him before they left the room. Salvatore Telese was the next victim of Peligi and Volotto, and before he could escape he received seven wounds about the body. He was removed to the Abington hospital for treatment and was there for three weeks. Frank Parcelli, of Edison, Bucks county, and Pugelese Saverio were also among those who received wounds at the hands of the two defendants. Peligi and Volotto was represented by Samuel H. High, Esq., and attorney Townley Larzelere looked after the interest of Patsy Volpe. After the hearing Peligi was held under $2800 bail, while Volotto, who is charged with being accessory, was required to give bail in the sum of $1600, in default of which both were committed to the Montgomery county jail to await trial next February.

NORTH WALES.

December 6 was Christian Endeavor day at St. Luke's Reformed church.

William Mertz, of Philedelphia, was the guest of J. A. Gerhart over the week-end.

The unexpected snowfall has stopped the improvements temporarily at the memorial plaza near the railway station.

Town council failed to have a quorum on December 7 on account of several members being out of town and several vacancies.

Mrs. Christian Nurk, of West Phildelphia were the guest of the Misses Gerhart.

The high school entertainment in the auditorium on Dec. 7 was largely attended.

Charles Greger, of Phoenixville, and a former resident here, has moved into the house of Abram Miller, on North Sixth street.

The Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company has rented of George Weikle the store he now occupies on East Walnut street as an electric store as soon as his new store building adjoining is completed. The new tenant will make alterations to suit the business and open a grocery as soon as completed.

The Sanigiene Mfr. Co. has been busy the past week moving its labaratories from Lewis Block to the Parker building.

Councilman George Haag, of the Third ward, with a party of friends has been in the Allegheny mountains running for deer.

Miss Stella Heis, of Lansdale, was visiting former friends and school chums last week.

At a annual event the Ladies of St. Luke's Reformed church held an old fashioned saure kraut supper in the banquet room of the chapel that was largely attended. An entertainment followed.

The wintry weather has stopped street work about town, so the enforcement of the proposed sidewalk on part of Main street and Penna. avenue against property owners will be delayed until spring.

The hosiery mill in our town is the busiest industry here.

William Hartman is adding a colonial porch to his home on Fifth street and Montgomery avenue.

Wilmer Krieble, of Harrisburg, was home on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Kriebel, on Main street.

Upper Moreland Seeks Division.

Another proceeding to have a county election district divided followed immediately after argument, recently on the proposition to split Lower Providence Mont Clare district, the taking of testimony in which occupied the greater part of a morning's session before Judge Miller in court room No. 1.

The second proceeding was one to partition Upper Moreland into two districts to be known as Upper Moreland Upper and Upper Moreland Lower.

Prefacing the taking of testimony, Judge Miller remarked in passing that he had just recently very reluctantly granted an application of the division of Moreland township and consequently two election districts where only one was before.

Suit Begun

At a recent hearing before a State Public Service Commission, sevral gas consumers stated that their service was unsatisfactory. Questioning brought out the fact that none of these consumers had taken advantage of the free service of trained employes of the Company, availabl for adjusting such local conditions.

Does this not seem a little unreasonable? Would it not have been better to have taken the matter up with the Company and had their local trouble rectified?

We endeavor to give good service, and assume that it is satisfactory unless the consumer tells us otherwise. Prompt attention is always given such requests for adjustment of appliances. We are as desirous of giving satisfactory ervice as you are in receiving it. Satified customers are our best asset.

Former Bucks County Postmaster is Held.

David Ryan, deposed Washington Crossing, Bucks county, postmaster and dancing instructor and notorious character, now under $3000 bail in Bucks county pending trial on many serious criminal charges was arrested on Dec. 2 in Sante Fe, New Mexico, to which place he fled with his wife and one child.

The escape to New Mexico and his arrest by police officials of Sante Fe is the climax of a career which completely upset the small Washington Crossing hamlet and summer resort. Faced with several serious charges brought by young girls of Washington Crossing, several charges of burglary and another charge of attempted extoration, Ryan, who is but 24 years old, mysteriously disappeared from Stewartsville, N. J., two weeks ago.

A telegram was received by Ryan's brother in Philadelphia requesting money be sent to New Mexico. The brother, who is his bondsman, became suspicious and immediately notified District Attorney Hiram H. Keller, Doylestown. Police officials of Sante Fe were notified and Ryan was arrested the next day and is being held until Sheriff Harvey D. Hunsberger, of Bucks county, brings him back to Doylestown.

Taking Desperate Chances.

It is true that many contract severe colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding attack and paves the way for the more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds may be had for a trifle? dec

Wills Probated.

Susan R. Fretz, late of Hatfield, disposes of an estate valued at $11,500, which is given in equal shares to her children. Edmund J. Bennett is named as executor.

Elmira A. Unruh, late of Pottstown, gives an estate valued at $9100 to her husband, Hugh, for life, with reversionary interest vested at his death in her son, Russel. Her husband is named as executor.

Store at Thatcher Sold.

P. B. Ahlum sold his store property at Thatcher with stock, to Carl Anderson, of Philadelphia. Stover's truck from Perkasie, brought their furniture on Monday, November 21. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson expect to take possession in several weeks.

When You Are Constipated.

To insure a healthy action of the bowels and correct disorders of the liver, take two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper. They will not only cause a gentle movement of the bowels, without unpleasant effects, but banish that dull, stupid feeling, that often accompanies constipation. dec

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Mother's Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures have made it a favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of young children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief and is free from opium and other harmful drugs. dec

St. Thomas Parish Platform.

The Parish of St. Thomas' Protestant Episcopal church, Whitemarsh, has taken a somewhat unique step in the adoption of a definite platform of aims and aspirations in connection with the administration of the spiritual affairs of the parish.

Coming at the beginning of the advent season, which is the opening of the platform or parish program is attracting considerable attention. The platform contains nine planks, and was adopted following a series of meetings under the direction of Rev. Nathaniel B. Groton, the rector, at which certain aims were discussed and approved for the purpose of creating and maintaining a "parish consciousness."

The planks are as follows:

That the life of our parish will be strengthened if each one of us comes to the Holy Communion at least once a month.

That each one of us shall be an active member, so far as is possible, of at least one organization in the parish.

That each one of us shall have a responsibility to welcome into our parish any strangers who may move into the community.

That each one of us shall have a responsibility to try to bring someone to confirmation.

That each one of us shall try to learn more of what the church is doing outside our parish.

That each one of us shall hope and pray that from our parish young people shall be called into the ministry and into the mission fields of the church.

That each one of us shall be a contributor to our parish's expenses and to the church's work outside our parish.

That we shall try to deepen the spiritual life in our homes.

Mrs. Laura M. Hoyt Recommends Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I have frequently used Chamberlain's Tablets, during the past three years, and have found them splendid for headache and bilious attacks. I am only too pleased, at anytime, to speak a word in praise of them," writes Mrs. Laura M. Hoyt, Rockport, N. Y. dec

Reading Transit Fare, Nine Cents.

In the case of the alleged unreasonableness of fares charged by the Reading Transit and Light company on its Norristown Division, the state public service commission has handed down a report dismissing the complaints. The rate will, therfore, remain at nine cents.

In its order the commission sets forth that the complaints, so far as they relate to the facilities and service of the company, are sustained, and that the concern shall, on or before June 1 next, make certain repairs. These repairs, however, have reference to that part of the division within Philadelphia territory.

The Norristown divison extends from Boyertown, Berks county, through Pottstown, Collegeville, Norristown, Roxborough, Manayunk and Wissahickon to the Wissahickon station of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company, in Philadelphia.

Joseph Cavalier, baker of Ambler, is considered a very fortunate man. Last Friday he left his automobile truck standing in front of Wheeler and Couter's place of business on Summit avenue with the engine running. In some manner the breaks were released and the machine began moving at a rapid rate of speed towards the station. However the truck had not gone far before it headed for a pole, but just as it was about to strike the pole it turned and ran directly across the street into a bank, and the only damage was a broken windshield.

Miss Alice Roberts, who has been quite ill for some time, is reported to be improving nicely and has sufficiently recovered to leave her room and come down stairs.

Mr. Robinson, organist at St. Thomas' church, will be assisted on Christmas Sunday at the 10:30 service by violin, 'cello, clarinet, trombone, cornet.

The boiler in the home of George Bodenstein bursted Friday at noon, causing considerable excitement. The Fort Washington and Glenside Fire companies responded, but their services were not required. The furnace connected with the boiler was badly damaged, while the bottom of the boiler was blown out. There was little or no damage outside of this. Water falling to flow into the boiler was given as the cause of the accident.

St. Thomas' choir will render Maunders' cantata "Bthlehem" at 4 p. m. Sunday, Jan. 8.

The Christmas service by the Sunday school of St. Paul's Reformed church will be held Saturday evening at 7.30 o'clock. An early service of praise will be held Sunday morning at 7 o'clock; the regular morning service at 10.45

Harry B. Bruner, the "grand old man of Germantown," who died recently at the age of 99 years and nine months, was a one time resident of Fort Washington, having lived on the old Jobson place, now owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad company, and he also resided where William McAdoo now lives. The remains rest in Northwood cemetery.

On Sunday in Rose Hill cemetery, Ambler, were interred the remains of Samuel C. Miller, who for some years resided on the Potts estate farm, east of this place. He died on Wednesday of last week aged about 62 years. During last summer he fell off a load of hay and sustained injuries from which he never fully recovered. He leaves a widow, Bertha E.; two sons and two daughters.

The election of officers and the annual banquet of the Fort Washington lodge of Masons was held on Saturday.

The youngest son of Mrs. George Wentz, of Whitemarsh, is recovering from congestion of the lungs.

FLOURTOWN.

Peter Sorensen is completing the improvements to the exterior of his property.

The Flourtown public school children will render a Christmas entertainment this Thursday evening in the school building on Wissahickon. The school will close on Friday for the holidays and will reopen Monday January 2nd.

Services in Springfield Presbyterian church will be as follows this week and Sunday: Prayer service, this Wednesday evening. Services Sunday morning at the usual hour. The Christmas festival of the Sabbath school will be held Wednesday evening, December 28th, at which time gifts to the scholars will be distributed. All are invited to these services.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. George Leslie has been quite ill during the past week, but at this writing there is quite an improvement in the child's condition.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Flourtown Fire Co. was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Harry Barnes, Mill road. The usual business was transacted and in addition arrangements were discussed in refernce to a card party to be held early in the new year.

Miss Edna Snyder has resigned her position as an operator of the Bell Telephone company. Miss Snyder was stationed at Ambler.

Last week there was a mistake made in reference to treasurer I. N. Yarnall and president of the building committee William Bysher, going to Norristown to pay off on the property of Springfield Presbyterian church instead of the property of the Flourtown Fire company. The members of the fire company are proud of the company's financial record for the year, and the payment of the above sum on the indebtedness shows how active the members have been and that they have just cause for being proud of their achievement in this direction.

On Monday the remains of William Naisby were interred in Union cemetery, Whitemarsh. The deceased was well known here and had quite a host of friends among the residents of Flourtown and vicinity. For more than 25 years prior to leaving Flourtown, he conducted a barber shop in the building now used for the same purpose by Walter Smith. This small building was built by Mr. Naisby, and when he left here, which was about 10 years ago, he disposed of the same to the present owner. The deceased was 68 years of age and is survived by a wife.

Milton R. Snyder and son Milton, Jr., were the guests of relatives at Souderton on Sunday.

A very interesting meeting was held at "The Maples," Carson colege, when Miss Euland, president of the college, entertained the members of the public library committee and neighbors in the community. The purpose of the gathering was to discuss plans for the future of the library. Miss Rockwell, state organizer of libraries from Harrisburg, was present, and gave a very profitable talk. A growing interest is being shown in the library. On Saturday evening, Jan. 14th, the Irving Literary society will give an entertainment for the benefit of the library in Odd Fellows' hall.

—Doylestown is agitating for a new school building.
